Ecumenical Institute of Theology

FALL 2010 COURSE BROCHURE

WHAT IS THE ECUMENICAL INSTITUTE OF THEOLOGY?

The Ecumenical Institute of Theology (E.I.) was founded in 1968 as the evening division of St. Mary's Seminary & University to provide accredited graduate theological education in the greater Baltimore area. Students and faculty come from a wide range of religious backgrounds. Many students study part-time for personal enrichment or to prepare for leadership roles in their religious communities. Other students are preparing for ordained ministry or professional positions. The Ecumenical Institute promotes mutual respect and understanding for persons of all faiths. We invite you to join us on the journey of faith seeking understanding and understanding making a difference.

WHAT KINDS OF COURSES DOES THE E.I. HAVE?

The E.I. offers courses in the major areas of theology: biblical studies, history, systematic theology, moral theology (theological ethics), religious education, practical theology, spirituality, and ecumenical and interfaith studies. Classes are offered in fall, spring, and summer terms.

Our Explorations in Theology program is designed for individuals engaging theology and ethics for the first time. Students interested in a certificate or degree program have several options. They may choose to work toward a graduate certificate in one of six areas: biblical studies, parish nursing, religious education, spirituality, urban ministry, and youth ministry. Students may also pursue the M.A. in Theology or the M.A. in Church Ministries, each with several concentrations or tracks. We also offer a post-master's Certificate of Advanced Studies (C.A.S.) for those who have a graduate theological degree. Further information concerning all E.I. programs is available at www.stmarys.edu/ei.

WHO MAY ENROLL?

Application to the E.I. to take classes for credit is open to any person with an undergraduate degree from an accredited institution, regardless of major, who has earned a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75 (graduate GPA of 3.30 for the C.A.S.). Students with a lower GPA may apply for probationary admission. With the written permission of their department chair, their dean, and the dean of the E.I., juniors and seniors majoring in theology or religious studies at fully accredited colleges and universities may take certain courses for credit to transfer to their undergraduate institution. Interested students should contact the dean of the E.I.

Audit students are admitted to most E.I. courses. Normally auditors do not need a bachelor's degree but must have at least 60 fully accredited undergraduate credits with a minimum GPA of 2.0. The E.I. reserves the right to restrict the number of auditors and to augment the requirements for audit admission.

INFORMATION FOR NEW STUDENTS

Prospective students for the Fall 2010 term must complete an application, submit a photograph, have an official transcript of their bachelor's degree sent from their undergraduate institution (master's transcript for C.A.S.), and schedule an interview by August 16.

New audit students are requested, but not required, to have an interview to discuss their academic goals. All new students must attend new student orientation on Saturday, September 11, from 9:00-11:00 a.m. New students normally take BS600 and/or TH601, or one of the other Explorations in Theology courses, which do not have prerequisites.

Criminal Background Checks: Consistent with our objective to safeguard individuals with whom students interact, a criminal background check is required of all students. New students and returning students who have not had the criminal background check (instituted in fall 2009) must complete and submit the Disclosure and Authorization to Release Information form. Upon written request, additional information as to the nature and scope of the criminal background reports, as well as a summary of a student's rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act, will be provided to any student.

GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT FALL TERM

The Fall 2010 term will begin on Tuesday, September 7 and end on Thursday, December 16. Most fall classes meet one afternoon or evening per week. There will be no classes on Monday, October 11 (Columbus Day) and Wednesday-Thursday, November 24-25 (Thanksgiving holidays). All Fall 2010 courses yield three graduate credits. In addition to the listed courses, independent study courses in various areas may be arranged. (Independent study tuition is $454.50 per credit.) More complete course descriptions, including requirements and textbooks, will be available via email and at the Ecumenical Institute office during registration. Normally, at least five students must register in order for a course to run. If a course is canceled, students who have registered for it will be notified by telephone or email.

Students should arrive early on the first day of classes to complete registration if necessary, receive their identification badge, obtain a library card from the circulation desk, and visit the bookstore to purchase textbooks.

REGISTRATION INFORMATION

Students may register by mail or in person during regular office hours. Continuing students should register early to ensure that all elective courses can run and to facilitate book ordering. Students desiring to pay on the deferred payment plan will be mailed a contract. Special in-person registration times are as follows:

Registration for New and Continuing Students

Monday-Thursday, July 12-15	9:00 am - 12:00 noon 12:30 pm - 7:00 pm
Friday, July 16	9:00 am - 12:00 noon

Late registrations will be accepted until the first meeting of a class, but there is a late registration fee of $30.00 beginning Monday, July 19 (except for new students). The staff is available for academic counseling Monday-Thursday, 9:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m., and Friday, 9:00 am-12:00 noon, or other times by appointment, in the E.I. office, 223B.

CHANGES IN REGISTRATION

Any changes in registration (e.g., credit to audit, audit to credit, withdrawal) must be made in writing with a signature (by mail or fax; no email). Changes are effective when received by the registrar's office. All students who do not officially withdraw in writing with a signature (by mail or fax; no email) from a course by the deadline for the term in which they are enrolled will receive a grade based on the work completed and/or not completed for the course.

ATTENTION PROSPECTIVE STUDENTS

CONSIDER THE EXPLORATIONS IN THEOLOGY PROGRAM

Explorations in Theology is a series of courses for people considering serious study of theology, religion, and ethics for the first time. It is designed to introduce beginning students to major dimensions of the theological tradition and to help them better understand some of the great religious and ethical issues of our time. Courses in the Explorations in Theology program have no prerequisites or corequisites, and most do not require a research paper (except BS600 and TH601, which are designed, in part, to teach research skills). Grading is based primarily on class participation, analytical papers, reaction papers, and/or exams.

The Curriculum

The courses offered in this program in Fall 2010 are:

Fall Explorations in Theology Courses

The following courses have no prerequisites:

- BS563 The Book of Job
- BS600 Orientation to Biblical Studies
- BS611 Introduction to Biblical Hebrew I
- SP515 The Theology & Practice of Prayer
- TH601 Introduction to Theological Study, Research & Writing

Note: All 500-level courses are co-listed at the 700-level (e.g., BS563 The Book of Job) so that certificate and degree candidates may take them, too (at the 700 level), usually with a required research paper.

Starting with Explorations in Theology

Students who qualify for admission to the Ecumenical Institute and are interested in Explorations apply as graduate-credit-only students without declaring interest in a particular certificate or degree program. They may then take any courses that have no co- or prerequisites, as well as any other courses for which they fulfill the co- or prerequisites.

Students who later decide to matriculate into a certificate or degree program may count up to two 500-level courses (and any number of 600- or 700-level courses) that they have taken, as long as the courses fulfill core requirements or elective slots in the chosen certificate or degree program. Matriculated degree and certificate candidates may not enroll in 500-level courses but must register for those courses at the 700 level. Students in the Explorations in Theology program are assigned an advisor to help them think about their selection of courses and their decisions regarding further theological study.

For further information, contact the Office of Recruitment and Communication: 410/864-4203 or prath@stmarys.edu.

ATTENTION ALUMS & CLERGY

THE CERTIFICATE OF ADVANCED STUDIES IN THEOLOGY (C.A.S.)

The Certificate of Advanced Studies in Theology (C.A.S.) is designed for individuals who possess a master's degree in theology (e.g., M.A. Theol.), ministry (e.g., M.A. in Church Ministries), divinity (e.g., M.Div.), or a related field and who desire to continue their theological education for personal and/or professional enrichment. The 30-credit (10-course) program can be taken on a full-time or part-time basis. A maximum of five years is allowed for completion. The program is composed in part of regular courses available to students studying for master's degrees and in part of specialized, advanced work specific to this program. Tuition is the same as for the master's program.

The Curriculum

In general, students construct their own curriculum (either general or specialized), in consultation with their advisor, as long as the curriculum falls within the program guidelines.

General Track

- Eight (8) 700-level courses (occasional 600-level courses may count with pre-approval) of the student's choice, with at least two courses in one department
- One (1) TH795 seminar, departmental seminar (xx794), or colloquium (TH799)
- One (1) TH790 directed reading course

Specialized Tracks

- Eight (8) 700-level courses (occasional 600-level courses may count with pre-approval), with at least four courses in one department (e.g., Biblical Studies or Moral Theology)
- One (1) TH795 seminar, departmental seminar (xx794), or colloquium (TH799)
- One (1) TH790 directed reading course in a subject related to the department of specialization

Admission to the Program

Admission to the C.A.S. is on a rolling basis; applicants may apply at any time. Criteria for admission are: (1) possession of an ATS-accredited and regionally accredited master's degree in theological studies (e.g., M.A., M.Div.), or its equivalent, with a minimum GPA of 3.30; and (2) evidence of potential for success in advanced theological study at the Ecumenical Institute.

Applicants must submit the following: (1) an application; (2) a sealed, official transcript of the accredited theological master's degree (unless the degree was earned at St. Mary's); (3) one academic letter of recommendation; and (4) a recent photograph. Applicants must also schedule an interview with the director of the C.A.S. program.

For further information, including a longer guide to the program, contact the Office of Admissions: 410/864-4202 or zbench@stmarys.edu.
