BS/BL614 New Testament Greek 2

Karen Carducci

Course Description: This is the second course in a two-semester sequence giving extensive grounding in the forms, vocabulary, and syntax of NT Greek. The class is designed for students with one semester of NT Greek. The teaching format of the class is lecture and discussion learning, with some blended learning using online resources. Student learning outcomes include comprehending and memorizing the basic grammar and syntax paradigms of NT Greek, memorizing a core vocabulary of Greek, and effectively translating passages from assigned Greek texts with attention to syntax and interpretation. These learning outcomes will be assessed by bi-weekly homework assignments, weekly assessments (quizzes/tests/final examination), and by weekly in-class & online participation with the instructor.

Course Requirements:

- Reading: Students should expect to read and comprehend assigned sections from the Greek textbooks and should come to class prepared for assessments with homework completed.
- Writing: Required writing assignments (include type & length of papers; percentage toward final grade that each paper contributes): See below.
- Other: Other activities (including class participation) contributing to final grade (with percentages): Weekly quizzes, HW due each class, participation/in-class performance, 3 tests, final examination:

Participation / in-class performance	15%
Homework	20%
Quizzes	18%
Tests (3): 9% each	27%
Final Examination	20%
Total	100%
