ST. MARY'S ECUMENICAL INSTITUTE OVERVIEW

HISTORY

St. Mary's Seminary & University established the Ecumenical Institute of Theology as its graduate evening program in the fall of 1968, as an ecumenical division open to women and men of all faith traditions. The Ecumenical Institute's faculty is drawn from neighboring academic and religious institutions, as well as from the St. Mary's Seminary & University theological faculty. The student body consists of approximately 200 students enrolled in master's, doctoral, and graduate certificate programs. Others are pursuing courses for credit or as auditors for personal enrichment. Our Explorations in Theology program is geared to students embarking on the study of theology and ethics for the first time.

MISSION

The mission of St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute, the evening division of St. Mary's Seminary & University, is to offer accredited ecumenical theological education at the master's- and post-master's- level to qualified men and women in the greater Baltimore area. Through its academic programs and community events, St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute seeks to provide opportunities for personal or professional enrichment; preparation for voluntary or professional leadership in a church, school, or community organization; and a basic theological foundation for ministry.

As a center for theological study in a pluralistic society, St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute exists to promote ecumenical and interfaith understanding and to contribute to the formation of a theologically and ethically informed public. At St.

Mary's Ecumenical Institute, theological inquiry takes place in an atmosphere that acknowledges the diversity of religions and cultures while emphasizing the Jewish and Christian traditions.

The educational program of St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute is intended to stimulate careful reflection leading to knowledge of one's own tradition and respect for the traditions of other people.

MASTER OF ARTS IN THEOLOGY

The Master of Arts in Theology (MAT) is a general theological studies degree that provides foundational studies in the main disciplines of theology, including biblical studies, history, moral theology (theological ethics), spirituality, systematic theology, and ecumenical and interfaith studies. Electives are also available in practical theology and religious education. The degree is earned with the successful completion of 48 credits, including a culminating experience. Students may pursue a general program or concentrate in biblical studies, history, moral theology, or systematic theology.

EDUCATIONAL GOALS AND OPPORTUNITIES

Students in the Master of Arts in Theology program pursue the following goals:

- To gain knowledge and understanding of the Christian and Jewish traditions as contained in Scripture, creeds, theological writings, and denominational statements
- To foster personal religious commitment through theological reflection, reading, writing, and discussion
- To relate theological knowledge and religious convictions to the personal and social issues of contemporary life, and to articulate an informed understanding of these issues

- To develop research, writing, and communication skills in preparation for further professional or academic activities
- To grow in ecumenical and interfaith awareness and sensitivity

THE CURRICULUM

The curriculum of the Master of Arts in Theology program consists of 16 three-credit courses including a culminating experience. The courses include:

- An introduction to theological study and an orientation to biblical studies
- Requirements (with some choice) in six departments
- Three free electives

For their culminating experience, students may do one of the following, depending on their interest, background, and grade point average:

- Take a comprehensive exam
- Participate in a colloquium (integrative seminar) which counts as the 16th course
- Write a thesis which counts as the 16th course

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Graduation requirements for the Master of Arts in Theology are as follows:

- Satisfactory completion of 48 credits, according to specific distribution requirements
- A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.7 for all courses taken at St. Mary's Note: Students whose GPA falls below 2.7 risk academic probation or dismissal.
- Satisfactory completion of the culminating experience

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

The following courses are required for the Master of Arts in Theology.

Introductory Courses (2 courses)

- TH601 Introduction to Theological Study
Note: TH601 is normally a pre- or co-requisite for other courses in the program; students with prior theological study may petition to waive this course and substitute a free elective.
- BS600 Orientation to Biblical Studies
Note: BS600 is normally a pre- or co-requisite for most other courses in biblical studies in the program; students with prior academic biblical study may petition to replace this course with a biblical elective.

Biblical Studies (3 courses)

- BS621 Literature and Theology of the Hebrew Bible

- BS622 Literature and Theology of the New Testament
- One BS elective

Ecumenical and Interfaith Studies (1 course)

- Any ES (Ecumenical and Interfaith Studies) course

History (2 courses)

- H601 Early and Medieval Church History
- H603 Modern Church History

Systematic and Moral Theology (4 courses)

- ST601 Foundations of Systematic Theology
- MT600 Fundamentals of Theological Ethics
- Two electives from Moral Theology and/or Systematic Theology

Spirituality (1 course)

- Any three credit SP (Spirituality) course, except courses in spiritual direction

Free Electives (3 courses)

Any courses for which the co- and/or prerequisites are met, including up to two 500-level courses taken before matriculation, and three 1-credit SP courses.

CULMINATING EXPERIENCE

The Master of Arts in Theology program requires a culminating experience designed to promote integration and to assess overall achievement of degree outcomes. For their culminating experience, students may do one of the following, depending on their interest, background, and grade point average:

- Take comprehensive examinations.
- Participate in a master's colloquium (TH799, an integrative seminar offered each spring).
- Write a thesis.

CONCENTRATIONS

Any student may informally focus on an area of the curriculum by choosing departmental courses and electives according to his or her interests. In consultation with their advisor, the Dean, and/or the Director of the M.A. in Theology (MAT) program, students may also design formal concentrations in a specific department (biblical studies, history, ecumenical and interfaith studies, moral theology, or systematic theology), a narrower sub-discipline of theology (e.g., Old Testament/Hebrew Bible, New Testament, biblical languages, ecumenical studies, interfaith studies), or an inter-disciplinary area (e.g., the Bible and Christian ethics, social justice). A concentration consists of six courses (seven if a thesis is written), of which no more than two may be independent studies. Normally the concentration will have a mixture of specific requirements and unspecified electives.

Students wishing to pursue an individualized concentration should meet with either the Dean, the Director of the MAT program, or their advisor to select an area of concentration and design the course content of the concentration. The proposed concentration must be approved by both the advisor and the Dean or the Director of the MAT program.

MASTER OF ARTS IN CHURCH MINISTRIES (MACM)

OVERVIEW

The Master of Arts in Church Ministries (MACM) is designed to equip persons for a competent ministry in congregational or other settings. Students take required foundational studies, select courses to comprise a ministry emphasis, and engage in integration and contextual study including a capstone ministry project in the course Ministry in Context.

EDUCATIONAL GOALS AND OPPORTUNITIES

This program of preparation includes not only intellectual but also ministerial and spiritual elements. In developing the understanding and skills necessary for ministry leadership, students in the MACM program pursue the following goals:

- To gain an understanding of the various theological disciplines that undergird and inform ministry in the churches
- To develop the capacity for critical and constructive theological reflection across the theological curriculum, especially with regard to the content and processes of one's chosen ministry specialization

- To gain exposure to, and have opportunities to participate in, various forms of church- and community-based ministries
- To cultivate the ability to communicate clearly about one's ministry and with those to whom one ministers
- To attain skills in the design, implementation, and assessment of ministry in the chosen specialization
- To grow in spiritual maturity, especially as a leader in ministry
- To acquire an understanding of the variety of traditions, beliefs, experiences, and ministries of people of faith, especially within the Christian churches, and a capacity to engage in mutually beneficial dialogue and cooperation with people in ministry from differing racial and creedal bodies

The curriculum of the Master of Arts in Church Ministries program consists of the following components: 48 credits (16 three-credit courses) including seven foundational courses, three ministry integration courses, four ministry focus courses, and two electives.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Graduation requirements for the Master of Arts in Church Ministries are as follows:

- Satisfactory completion of 48 credits, according to the core requirements
- A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.7 for all courses taken at St. Mary's. Note: Students whose GPA falls below 2.7 risk academic probation or dismissal.
- Satisfactory completion of culminating experience.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

The following courses are required for the Master of Arts in Church Ministries.

Foundational Courses (7 courses)

- TH601 Introduction to Theological Study
Note: TH601 is normally a pre- or co-requisite for other courses in the program; students with prior theological study may petition to waive this course and substitute a free elective.
- BS600 Orientation to Biblical Studies
Note: BS600 is normally a pre- or co-requisite for most other courses in biblical studies in the program; students with prior academic biblical study may petition to replace this course with a biblical elective.
- BS621 The Literature and Theology of the Hebrew Bible
- BS622 The Literature and Theology of the New Testament

- ST601 Foundations of Systematic Theology
- MT600 Fundamentals of Theological Ethics
- PT718 Christian Worship

Ministry Integration Courses (9 credit hours ~ 3 courses)

- PT601 Foundations of Christian Ministry (normally the first ministry course taken)
- A suitable course in the oral interpretation of Scripture
- PT799 Ministry in Context (usually the final course in the program)

Ministry Focus Courses (4 courses)

Students take four courses in a focused area of ministry, which is declared an Emphasis with approval of the Director of the M.A. in Church Ministries. These courses are generally PT or SP. However, students may choose not to focus.

Electives (2 courses)

Any two courses in the curriculum

MINISTRY-IN-CONTEXT

Crucial to any educational program of preparation for ministry is supervised, practical experience and theological reflection on that experience. The Ministry-in-Context component of the M.A. in Church Ministries (PT799) is the culminating and integrating experience of the degree program. Offered only in the spring semester, Ministry-in-Context is a three-credit course that includes a supervised field placement of approximately 10 hours per week (minimum of 120 hours total) and a bi-weekly theological reflection seminar with a faculty mentor and all other Ministry-in-Context students for that term. This culminating experience consists of three credits included in the 48 credits in the basic curriculum.

Enrollment in Ministry-in-Context is open only to fully matriculated MACM degree candidates who have completed at least 36 hours toward the degree, including at least 15 hours of the foundational curriculum and 12 hours of the requirements for their area of ministry emphasis. Normally, students should take Ministry-in-Context in the last term of their program.

Planning for Ministry-in-Context must begin in the spring or summer prior to the year in which the student will take the course, with final arrangements and approval by all involved parties to be completed before Thanksgiving during the fall term. A guide to planning Ministry-in-Context is provided by the program director. Placement is based on the area of student interest, site availability, and input from the student's faculty advisor and the program director, after discussion with the individual student. Depending on the emphasis, site placement may be at the student's own church, another church, or a different ministry site. Each student in a placement has both a faculty advisor and an on-site, approved and trained ministerial supervisor, normally a pastor. Expectations of the student include regular, enthusiastic participation at the site for the agreed-upon hours each week (totaling a minimum of 120 hours for the semester), growth in ministry skills, and collateral reading.

The purpose of the concurrent theological reflection seminar is to integrate a student's theological education, personal spiritual development, and ministry experience. Since students have different emphases and are not ministering to the same groups of people, the seminar provides great opportunities for students to assist one another's growth. A substantial integrative paper (both scholarly and reflective in character) is required.

Ministry-in-Context students are evaluated by the on-site supervisor and the seminar instructor. Students are assigned a course grade by the instructor. Successful completion of Ministry-in-Context requires a grade of B or better. Repeating the Ministry-in-Context experience may be required if the student does not fulfill the expectations agreed upon by the student, field supervisor, and instructor, or if he or she receives a grade below B.

SPIRITUAL GROWTH

As a degree designed to equip persons for competent leadership in some form of specialized ministry in congregational or other settings, the

M.A. in Church Ministries (MACM) necessarily has as its chief goal the preparation of ministers, particularly lay ministers.

Spiritual growth within the MACM program takes place largely as a result of a student's own initiatives in this area, aided by certain structures within the program itself. Spiritual growth takes place in five arenas within the program: (1) classes in general; (2) classes in spirituality and related areas; (3) the Ministry-in-Context experience; (4) a guided spiritual experience lasting at least one academic year (see below); and (5) participation in at least one relevant conference, retreat, or similar experience per year while matriculated in the program.

The last two components require approval by the Director of the MACM program. The one-year experience may be fulfilled by participation in a denominationally based ministry-preparation program or involvement in some other form of spiritual-growth process outside St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute. The latter might include (a) individual or group spiritual direction or spiritual companionship or (b) participation in a church-sponsored prayer and study cell, covenant discipleship group, small Christian community, or other small group. The focus, duration, and location of the annual experience are at the discretion of the student, subject to the approval of his or her advisor and the program director. The retreat or conference must be relevant to the student's personal, spiritual, and/or ministerial growth.

GRADUATE CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

OVERVIEW

The certificate programs of St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute are designed primarily to serve the needs of laypersons interested in ministry in churches, schools, and religious or community organizations. The purpose of these programs is to provide students with the opportunity to do focused work in one area of ministry or theological study. Certificates do not certify that a student is competent to engage in any particular form of ministry but that he or she has completed a particular course of study.

St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute offers a variety of post-bachelor's certificates; some are currently being revised (*):

- Biblical Studies—15 credits
- CONNECT: Faith, Health, & Medicine—12 credits
- Religious Education—21 credits*
- Spirituality—12 credits
- Urban Ministry—21 credits*
- Youth & Family Ministry—21 credits*

Possession of an accredited bachelor's degree is required for admission to a certificate program.

Additional requirements are listed at Admission & Registration.

POLICIES SPECIFIC TO THE CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

All courses for the certificate must be taken at St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute; no transfer credits are permitted. Courses taken prior to enrollment in the certificate program are counted toward the certificate only with special permission. Courses not required for a certificate must be approved in advance by the student's advisor or the administration before they are counted as part of a student's certificate program.

All course work must be completed within three years. Students must maintain a minimum GPA of 2.7, which is required for completion of the certificate, or risk academic probation or dismissal. Students may enroll in more than one certificate program, or in a certificate and degree program simultaneously, with the approval of their advisor.

Some certificates still require a field-placement experience known as a practicum. The practicum must be approved by the student's advisor, the instructor, and the Director of the M.A. in Church Ministries program.

Certificates are awarded upon completion of the required courses, not at graduation. Students may normally transfer courses taken for a certificate into a degree program, provided that the courses fulfill degree requirements or can be used as electives.

BIBLICAL STUDIES

The revised Certificate in Biblical Studies (BS) provides a 15-credit course of study in the essentials of responsible interpretation of the Bible. This certificate is designed for a variety of students: people seeking understanding and personal enrichment, those preparing for further theological study, students and scholars from other disciplines, teachers in private and parochial schools, teachers in churches or religious congregations, and clergy seeking to update or expand their biblical knowledge.

Required courses include:

- BS600 Orientation to Biblical Studies
- BS621 Literature & Theology of the Hebrew Bible
- BS622 Literature & Theology of the New Testament
- Two BS electives

SPIRITUALITY

The revised Certificate in Spirituality introduces students to the resources available for spiritual growth and for facilitating the spiritual formation of others. The program is intended for those interested in the study, practice, and/or transmission of spiritual traditions and practices.

The four courses can be taken in any order. There are no prerequisite courses. Each of the courses will be offered approximately every 2 years, beginning with Christian Spirituality in Fall 2017.

- SP631 Explorations in Christian Spirituality
- SP605 Spiritual Disciplines & Traditions
- SP603 Introduction to Spiritual Care
- SP609 Spiritual Theology

CONNECT: FAITH, HEALTH & MEDICINE CERTIFICATE PROGRAM

CONNECT is a 12-credit graduate theological certificate program for doctors, nurses, and other medical professionals; chaplains, pastors, and other ministers; and everyone concerned with the challenges of integrating faith and health.

The CONNECT certificate program is cohort-based, with all enrolled students beginning together. The certificate is organized as five sequential modules plus a practicum that together build understanding and competency

TH651 Text and Tradition: Health, Healing, and Human Flourishing in the Biblical Narrative (3 credits)

Students will understand the central vision of human health and flourishing in Scripture, highlighting the most relevant texts, practices, and topics, and will be able to assess how others (patients, fellow congregants, clients, clinicians) are relating Scripture to their health situations.

TH653 Science Looks at Faith: The “Faith & Health” Movement (1 credit)

Students will critically describe and evaluate connections between faith and health that have been proposed historically and in contemporary “faith and health” studies, becoming competent to critically assess claims that faith helps or hinders health and healing.

TH655 I and Thou – The Imperative of Relationships (1 credit)

Students will explain the importance of relationship in healing, both from individual and communal perspectives, becoming competent to demonstrate healthy relational skills, including respectful interaction, active listening, and caring presence.

TH654 Medicine and Morality: The Shape of Curing and Caring in The Christian Tradition (3 credits)

Students will understand how the Christian moral tradition has traditionally understood the “good of the body” (i.e., health) and subsequently influenced the historical practice of so-called “western” medicine, becoming competent to evaluate the moral conflicts that often arise between the Christian tradition and modern medical practice.

TH652 What People Believe Matters – World Religions’ Views on Health and Illness (2 credits)

Students will identify the beliefs, prayers, and rituals surrounding illness and dying in major world religions, noting similarities and differences between those of Christianity and of non-Christian traditions, and the spiritual practices that each religion encourages for health and flourishing, becoming competent to recognize the importance of these beliefs and practices, and to respond to them with humility, openness, and hospitality.

Practicum – Faith & Health in Action (2 credits, required only for Certificate students)

CERTIFICATE OF ADVANCED STUDIES (CAS)

The post-master's Certificate of Advanced Studies in Theology (CAS) is designed for individuals who possess a master's degree in theology (e.g., M.A. Theol.), ministry (e.g., M.A. Ch. Min.), divinity (e.g., M.Div.), or a related field and who desire to continue their theological education with a general or focused program of study. (All qualified graduates of the Ecumenical Institute of Theology, regardless of degree or year of graduation, may apply.)

The 30-credit (10-course) program can be taken on a full-time or part-time basis. The program is composed in part of regular courses available to students studying for master's degrees and in part of specialized, advanced work specific to this program. Tuition is the same as for the master's program.

EDUCATIONAL GOALS AND OPPORTUNITIES

- To provide students who already possess an accredited master's degree in theological studies with a structured program of theological education that broadens and/or deepens the curriculum of a traditional master's program.

- To provide professional enrichment in theological and ministerial studies to local clergy and others in various forms of ministry.
- To provide advanced theological seminars and opportunities for in-depth reading that are not typically part of a master's program.

Completion of the Program

All course work must be completed within five years from the date of the first course taken toward the CAS (excepting advanced-standing credits). A final GPA of 3.00 is required.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

The CAS program consists of ten courses, including at least one colloquium or seminar and one directed reading course. In general, students construct their own curriculum (either general or specialized), in consultation with their advisor, as long as the curriculum falls within the program guidelines specified here and does not duplicate previous graduate work. An intensive directed-reading course called TH790 CAS Directed Reading is the capstone experience of the program. The student is guided by a member of the faculty on a topic approved by the Dean. The course consists of guided reading (approximately 1,500-2,000 pages) on the topic together with three critical reviews and a final paper analyzing and synthesizing the materials in the readings. (Note: Tuition for this course is at independent-study rates, 50% higher than regular tuition.) There is no thesis option or comprehensive exam in the CAS program.

GENERAL TRACK

The curriculum for the CAS general track consists of the following:

- Eight 700-level courses (occasional 600-level courses may count with pre-approval) of the student's choice, with at least two courses in one department
- One TH795 seminar, departmental seminar (xx794), or colloquium (TH799)
- One TH790 directed reading course

Students in the general track may take up to two approved independent-study courses and any number of approved seminars and colloquia in lieu of the 700-level general course offerings, as long as two of their total courses are in one department. Students in the general track may take up to six credits in a biblical language at the 600 level.

SPECIALIZED TRACKS

CAS students may specialize in one of the following departments: Biblical Studies, Ecumenical and Interfaith Studies, History, Moral Theology (Theological Ethics), Practical Theology, Spirituality, and Systematic Theology. Students who concentrate in one department pursue the following sort of curriculum:

- Eight 700-level courses (occasional 600-level courses may count with pre-approval), with at least four courses in one department (e.g., Biblical Studies or Moral Theology) Note for students specializing in Biblical Studies: All students must take at least four 700-level courses, normally including one OT and one NT course (non-language). Students with advanced standing may take up to six credits in biblical languages, while students without advanced standing may take up to twelve credits in biblical languages.
- One TH795 seminar, departmental seminar (xx794), or colloquium (TH799)
- One TH790 directed reading course in a subject related to the department of specialization

Students in a specialized track may take up to two approved independent-study courses and any number of approved seminars and colloquia in lieu of the 700-level general course offerings, as long as four of their total courses (counting courses, seminars, and independent studies) are in one department.

Note: All CAS matriculants may take certain 600-level courses at the 700 level (with some additional work required) with the permission of the instructor and the Dean.

RESEARCH TRACK

C.A.S. students with demonstrated advanced research skills, whose primary interest is in theological research, whether simply as the focus of the C.A.S. program or in preparation for doctoral studies, may pursue the research track. Students in the research track may specialize in a particular department or follow a more interdisciplinary program. In consultation with the Director of the C.A.S., they choose an advisor and work closely with the advisor throughout the program.

The course of study for the research track is as follows:

- Six 700-level courses (occasional 600-level courses may count with pre-approval) of the student's choice, with at least two courses in one department
- One TH795 seminar, departmental seminar (xx794), or colloquium (TH799)
- One TH790 directed reading course
- Two guided research projects, TH791 and TH792, each focused on the preparation of a substantive paper or other appropriate final project. The subjects of the two research projects may be related, though they do not need to be.

Note: Students in the research track may take up to one additional directed reading course, replacing one of the regular 700-level courses.

ADVANCED STANDING AND COURSE WORK OUTSIDE THE PROGRAM

- Applicants may apply for up to six credits of advanced standing with credit on the basis of previous advanced course work at the master's level. This reduces the number of credits required to 24.
- In addition, up to six credits of post-master's course work taken at St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute, but prior to acceptance into the CAS program, may be counted toward the CAS upon the decision of the Dean.
- With the permission of the EI Dean and the administration of St. Mary's School of Theology, students may take up to nine pre-approved credits in the School of Theology (S.O.T.). (Please note that the S.O.T. uses a different numbering system; approved courses are generally at the 600 level or higher.)

- No transfer of courses from other institutions into the CAS program is permitted.
- All course work must be completed within five years from the date of the first course taken toward the C.A.S. (excepting advanced-standing credits). A final GPA of 3.00 is required.

ADMISSION AND REGISTRATION

St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute has a rolling admissions policy.

All official materials should be sent to
Office of Admissions, Ecumenical Institute
St. Mary's Seminary & University
5400 Roland Ave.
Baltimore, MD 21210

Admission Requirements

General

The general qualification for admission to St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute is a bachelor's degree from a fully accredited school with an appropriate grade point average. In certain circumstances, exceptions are allowed to the requirements of a degree or minimum grade point average.

Additional Qualifications for Specific Admission Categories

MACM requires a minimum undergraduate GPA of 2.75 (on a four-point scale). Applicants must be able to articulate, in writing and in person, their understanding of ministry and their particular aptitude for the ministry track selected.

MAT requires a minimum undergraduate GPA of 2.75 (on a four-point scale).

M.Div. in partnership with Lancaster Theological Seminary requires a minimum undergraduate GPA of 2.75 (on a four-point scale).

Certificates require a minimum undergraduate GPA of 2.75 (on a four-point scale).

CAS requires a master's degree in theological studies (e.g., M.A., M.Div.) or its equivalent, with a minimum GPA of 3.30 (on a four-point scale), and evidence of potential for success in advanced theological study at the Ecumenical Institute.

Auditor requires minimum undergraduate GPA of 2.0 GPA (on a four-point scale).

ACADEMIC SKILLS ASSESSMENT

The Academic Skills Assessment is a diagnostic instrument that helps students and prospective students develop stronger reading comprehension and written communication. While a certain score on the ASA is not required for admission, the ASA is normally taken by applicants during the admissions process, whether on campus by appointment or on their home computer. The results (in addition to recommendations for academic growth) are provided to the student by the Associate Dean.

SPECIAL CIRCUMSTANCES

Prospective students who possess less than a cumulative undergraduate GPA of 2.75 may apply for probationary admission as an Explorations in Theology student. Probationary students must achieve a cumulative GPA of at least 2.7 for their first four courses. The Dean or the Associate Dean, who reviews the progress and re-evaluates the status of all probationary students each term, may also impose other conditions. Probationary students must meet all conditions associated with their probationary admission.

STUDENTS WITHOUT A BACCALAUREATE DEGREE

St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute admits a limited number of highly qualified students without an accredited baccalaureate degree. Typically these students have several years of college, or have a degree from a school that is not accredited. In conformity with the following policies, such students may apply for admission as Explorations in Theology or Master of Arts in Church Ministries students. All such students will originally be admitted on probationary status.

For students with 60+ undergraduate hours:

- Transcript verification of all college level work. Assessment of quality.
- Portfolio of
 - Documentation of any additional non-credit academic or professional training. E.g., vocational training, EMT training, etc.

- Documentation of life experience that has prepared the student for theological study at the graduate level.
- Take the Academic Skills Assessment and consult with the Writing Specialist.
- Required ‘soft start’: either TH601 or an appropriate 500 level course.
- Achievement of 3.0 or better GPA after four courses.

For students with fewer than 60 undergraduate hours, there will be an interview with the Dean. If the Dean determines the student has potential for graduate work, the student will take the Academic Skills Assessment (ASA). The score on the ASA will determine whether the student is allowed to enroll and, if so, in which classes.

DUAL-DEGREE AND SECOND-MASTER’S ADMISSION

Prospective or current students may apply to pursue both the M.A. in Theology (MAT) and the M.A. in Church Ministries (MACM), either simultaneously or sequentially. Applicants must meet the admissions criteria for each degree. The following guidelines should be carefully reviewed.

In accordance with accreditation standards, St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute allows up to 24 credits from one degree program to be applied to another degree program. Thus, with careful planning and advising, a student may be able to complete both degrees by earning 72 credits and completing the culminating experience for each degree. In certain instances, however, more than 72 credits may be required for the completion of both degrees.

Second-master's students who have earned a St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute certificate (other than the CAS), and who wish to count their certificate courses toward the degree, are required to take at least 12 credits beyond the certificate. Due to the expiration of credits after 10 years, students applying for a second master's degree will normally not be allowed to apply expired credits toward a second degree.

Each dual-degree program is individually arranged in consultation with the administration. The 24 credits normally applied to both degree programs are TH601, BS600, two biblical courses, MT600, ST601, a spirituality course, and two other courses.

The time limit for the completion of the two degrees simultaneously or sequentially is normally 10 years from the date of first enrollment in a St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute course.

Students who have earned master's degrees in theological studies from other institutions may apply for an abbreviated second-master's degree in either the M.A. in Church Ministries or the M.A. in Theology program. Credits previously earned are evaluated and applied according to the criteria listed in the preceding paragraphs and the requirements of the degree program to which application is being made.

Orientation

An orientation session is required of all new master's level students during their first year (preferably in their first term of enrollment). It is usually held on a Saturday morning at the beginning of each semester. The session consists of information about the nature of theological inquiry, an overview of the programs and policies of St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute, and a tour of the campus.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

GENERAL STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

It is the responsibility of the student to comply with the academic policies of St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute. In addition to timely registration and prompt payment of fees, it is especially imperative to complete the admission requirements and to inform the office in writing of any changes in registration, address, telephone numbers, or email addresses.

It is expected that students already have basic skills in library usage, critical reading, research, and writing term papers. Students are required to research, organize, and write their own papers, and to keep a copy of any work submitted in a course.

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION

Graduate theological education requires a high degree of involvement in the classroom and initiative outside the classroom. Regular attendance and informed participation are expected and evaluated in all classes. A necessary absence should be cleared in advance with the professor. More than one absence from a course may result in additional work or a lower grade, at the professor's discretion. More than three absences may result in administrative withdrawal.

Auditors are required to attend more than 50 percent of a course's class sessions in order to have the course audit appear on their transcripts.

Students are also expected to be on time for class and to deactivate cell phones and beepers. (Exceptions are made only for physicians, pastors, and other professionals who are on call, and for persons whose immediate family medical situation requires availability.) A detailed policy on attendance and related matters may be found in the Student Handbook.

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

St. Mary's is committed to providing reasonable accommodations to students with disabilities. It is St. Mary's policy that all such requests be made to the office of the Registrar. St. Mary's requires supporting documentation for these requests.

The Registrar and Associate Dean will review the request and the documentation, consult with the student and make a decision about the request. The Registrar will provide written notice of the approved accommodation to any faculty or staff member who may be directly involved in implementing the accommodation.

UNIT OF CREDIT

Most courses are designed to yield three graduate credits. Full-time study is normally nine (9) or more credits per semester. Most St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute students are part-time students taking one or two courses each semester.

NAME CHANGES

St. Mary's Seminary & University requires that all official records bear a student's full and legal first, last, and middle (if applicable) name. If a student's name has been changed because of marriage, divorce, legal action, etc., the student is required to provide documentation such as a driver's license, passport, or social security card before the name can be changed in St. Mary's records.

GRADING SYSTEM

Grades represent the evaluation by the professor of the results of class attendance and participation, papers or reports, and written or oral examinations. More specific guidelines about grades and grading are available in the Student Handbook. Any question concerning a grade must be resolved by the student and the professor within one month of the official notification of grades. Appeals beyond this are made first to the Dean and then to the Faculty, according to procedures outlined in the Student Handbook. The decision of the Faculty is final.

Grade Symbol	Quality Points per Credit Hour	Grade Description
A	4.0	Exceptional
A-	3.7	Excellent
B+	3.3	Very Good
B	3.0	Good
B-	2.7	Acceptable
C+	2.3	Inadequate
C	2.0	Deficient

C-	1.7	Poor
F	0.0	Failure
XF	0.0	Failure for Academic Dishonesty
W		Withdrawal
I		Incomplete

The grade of “I” is a temporary notation indicating that some course work has not been completed by the end of the term due to some circumstance beyond the student’s control and that the professor has approved an extension of time. An “I” is never automatically granted; a student must submit a written petition, available for download here and from the E.I. office, that requires the approval of both the professor and the Dean. Dates for the submission of all work to remove Incompletes are published each term by the Registrar’s office. Failure to submit outstanding work to the professor by this date will result in a grade of “F” being assigned by the Registrar.

COURSE FAILURES AND REPEATS

Course grades of F and XF earn no graduate credit. A student who fails a course is subject to probation or, in certain cases, dismissal. (For details, see the Student Handbook.) The grade of “F” is permanently inscribed on the student's transcript. If a student is placed on probation and is permitted or required to repeat the course, the student may re-take the course one time, normally no more than two years following the term in which the "F" was received. If the student earns a better grade in the repeat course, the original "F" remains on the transcript but is no longer calculated in the student's GPA, and the new grade both appears on the transcript and is calculated as part of the student's GPA.

A student whose GPA falls below 2.7 is also placed on probation. A student on probation for this reason who wishes to repeat a course voluntarily, in order to improve his or her cumulative GPA, may petition the Dean for permission to do so. Permission is normally granted only if the course grade was less than C+ and if the Dean believes that repeating the course will improve not only the student's GPA, but also his or her mastery of the subject. If the student earns a better grade in the repeat course, the original grade remains on the transcript but is no longer calculated in the student's GPA, and the new grade both appears on the transcript and is calculated as part of the student's GPA. Voluntary repeat courses must normally be taken no more than two years following the term in which the original course was taken.

GRADE REQUIREMENTS

A student must maintain a “B-” average, i.e., a GPA of 2.7, in order to graduate from a degree program or receive a certificate. (GPAs are never “rounded up”; a 2.69 GPA does not qualify.) Unsatisfactory grades must be balanced by higher grades to maintain the 2.7 average. A required course yielding a failing grade must be repeated by matriculated certificate and degree candidates who are permitted to remain in the program. Only grades from courses taken at St. Mary’s are used to calculate the GPA.

LIFE OF CREDITS

Because of the nature of theological research and study, students should have a command of the most recent information available when working toward a degree. Normally, credits earned at St. Mary’s or transferred from another accredited institution must have been earned within the past ten (10) years and completed with a grade of B or better to be eligible for application to a current degree. Use of these credits must be approved by the Dean and the Registrar. Grades for work in transfer courses are not calculated in the current program GPA.

Dean’s List

The annual Dean’s List recognizes as many as 20 fully matriculated degree candidates (M.A. Theol. or M.A. Ch. Min.) with the highest cumulative GPA. Minimum requirements for consideration for the Dean's List are (1) matriculation in a degree program; (2) completion of 18 or more credits at the E.I., including a total of six or more credits within at least two of the three terms prior to the announcement of the Dean's List (normally about July 1); (3) a cumulative GPA of 3.85 or better; and (4) no course grade below a B. Dean's List students receive a partial scholarship for one course during the following academic year.

Academic Integrity

All course assignments are to be done with integrity. Written work is to be the student's own, and care is to be taken to give full documentation for all material quoted or paraphrased from other sources. The standard for written work is Kate L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 9th ed. (University of Chicago Press). Plagiarism and the submission of work other than one's own are viewed as serious offenses and grounds for dismissal. A detailed policy on academic integrity and honesty may be found in the Student Handbook.

Grade Reports and Transcripts

Grade reports are issued at the end of each term. Grade reports will not be issued for any student who has outstanding financial or library obligations (items checked out of St. Mary's library in the student's name but not returned, plus any library fines).

Written, signed requests for transcripts, which must include the student's date of birth and years of attendance, should be addressed to the Registrar. Email messages are not acceptable as legal release of records. The charge for both official and unofficial transcripts is $5 per transcript. Transcripts will not be issued for any student who has failed to fulfill his or her financial or library obligations.

CONCERNS AND GRIEVANCES

Student concerns about a course or grade may often be resolved directly with the professor. Unresolved issues should be addressed using the procedures described in the Student Handbook. The Student Handbook also contains policies for appeals concerning administrative withdrawal, probation, and dismissal.

PROBATION AND DISMISSAL

Any student (matriculated or not) whose overall GPA falls below 2.7 will be placed on academic probation. The student must then bring his or her average back up to 2.7 within the next four courses (or the end of the program, whichever comes first) to avoid dismissal. Any student (matriculated or not) who fails a course or otherwise demonstrates an inability to meet the academic demands of St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute will be placed on academic probation or dismissed. Degree candidates who fail the comprehensive exam, the Colloquium, the thesis project, or Ministry-in-Context are normally not permitted to enroll in future courses at St. Mary's Ecumenical for credit, and may be dismissed. In addition, any student who is found guilty of academic dishonesty or other major violations of students' responsibilities, as indicated in St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute's Community-Life Agreement and Community-Life Policies printed in the Student Handbook, will be subject to academic probation or dismissal. Further information is available in the Student Handbook.

ACADEMIC PLANNING AND ADVISING

All students taking courses for credit are assigned an advisor. Certificate and degree candidates are assigned an advisor based on their specific area of study. All students are encouraged to seek academic assistance from their advisors, especially in the planning of their program and course selection. Students who need specialized counseling (e.g., regarding further graduate education) should consult also with the Dean.

The average St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute student takes one or two courses per term and is often somewhat confined, with respect to scheduling classes, by other commitments. The following guidelines are given with the understanding that some students cannot follow the "ideal" program.

All degree and certificate candidates, potential degree and certificate candidates, "seekers" exploring various programs, and students who need a general introduction to theological study should take TH601 during their first or second term. BS600 is also strongly recommended early on for actual or potential degree candidates, and is required for most other biblical studies courses. Students new to theological study may also begin with courses that are part of the Explorations in Theology program.

Degree-seeking students should then normally continue with foundational courses in each of the core theological disciplines. There is no prescribed order, but the ideal sequence for the first four to six courses would be: (1) biblical core (taking Hebrew Bible before New Testament); (2) H601 Early and Medieval Church (for the M.A. Theol.); (3) ST601 Foundations of Systematic Theology; (4) MT600 Fundamentals of Theological Ethics. The required course in Spirituality may be taken at any time in the program. Additional required foundational courses (depending on the degree program) may be taken later in the program. Students may take courses only after they have completed the appropriate prerequisites.

RESEARCH AND WRITING ASSISTANCE

Students in need of research and/or writing assistance are urged, and in some cases required, to contact St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute's writing specialist. Students whose performance on the Academic Skills Assessment or in-class work suggests the need for writing assistance may be required to work with the writing specialist and/or to take a non-credit remedial course in academic writing and reading to continue as a student.

PERMANENT RECORDS POLICY

1) In addition to biographical information (name, address, state or federally mandated demographic data), St. Mary's keeps the following information on all students and it becomes part of a student's permanent academic record:

- a) admissions and other test scores
- b) diocese information (for seminarians)
- c) recommendations (when required for admission)
- d) dates of application, acceptance, registration, matriculation, withdrawal
- e) academic program(s) information at St. Mary's
- f) all coursework, with grades, status, dates and grade point averages
- g) official transcripts from other institutions
- h) courses transferred for credit
- i) photograph of student if needed for admission process
- j) information about other language(s) studied
- k) correspondence with St. Mary's faculty and administrators relating to student's program
- l) all information on theses
- m) comprehensive examinations and examination scores
- n) information on degree(s) conferred
- o) other pertinent documents and information (withdrawal, transfer, leave of absence, financial documents that pertain to academic status, pastoral year, dismissal etc.)

2) Restrictions are placed on student records in compliance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and to protect the privacy rights of individuals. These documents may be inspected only by those faculty members or administrators at St. Mary's who have a legitimate educational interest in seeing them. Others may inspect these files or obtain copies of information in a student's record only after the Registrar's Office has received a signed written request or permission form from the student and the student has paid a nominal fee, or as otherwise permitted or required by law. No e-mail requests are accepted. Transcripts will not be issued to any student who has not fulfilled his or her financial and/or library obligation to the institution.

3) St. Mary's does not designate any student information as "directory information" under FERPA and therefore does not release personally identifiable information from educational records without written authorization or as otherwise permitted or required by law.

4) Students are at liberty to inspect their own academic files by making an appointment with the Office of the University Registrar. By submitting a letter of application to the University Registrar, a student may 1) inspect and review his or her records, 2) petition to seek amendment of records that the student believes are inaccurate, misleading or otherwise in violation of the student's privacy rights. No part of any record may be inspected by the student without the express written consent of the University Registrar. Permission will be granted within a reasonable time and in no case more than forty-five (45) days from the date of the receipt of a written request for inspection. Any suspected inaccuracies in any of St. Mary's records should be reported at once to the Office of the University Registrar. Since each institution is responsible for the accuracy of its own files and for correcting them when necessary, St. Mary's will not amend academic documents from other parties which may be in its possession nor forward such records to third parties. This includes documents such as transcripts from other institutions sent to St. Mary's as part of the admissions process.

5) Only those St. Mary's staff members who are directly responsible for students' accounts or billing matters may examine financial documents that relate to a student's stay at St. Mary's.

NAME CHANGES

St. Mary's Seminary & University requires that all official records bear a student's full and legal first, last, and middle (if applicable) name. If a student's name has been changed because of marriage, divorce, legal action, etc., the student is required to provide documentation such as a driver's license, passport, or social security card before the name can be changed in St. Mary's records.

SUBMISSION OF ORIGINAL WORK AND RETENTION OF COPIES

It is customary for students to submit exams, papers, theses and other projects to their instructors for evaluation during a course or as part of their culminating experience in a degree program. When work is submitted for evaluation, the student retains the intellectual property rights to that which has been created, but the original hand-written, typed, or word processing document (or, for a thesis, the original and one copy) or other medium of work (e.g., video tape, audio tape, electronic file) submitted becomes the property of St. Mary's Seminary & University. In the case of course work, the instructor evaluates the submitted work and communicates the results of the evaluation to the student. The faculty member, at his or her discretion, may return the work to the student, retain the work, discard the work, or request that the administration retain the work or place the work in the student's academic record. The administration of St. Mary's also retains the right to request the original work from the instructor and may place it in the student's academic record, store the work elsewhere (e.g., in the library or in a special collection of submitted projects), or discard the work if the student fails to retrieve it in a timely manner after being asked to do so.

It is St. Mary's policy to retain all student work about which the instructor or administration has raised questions about its academic integrity.

It is the student's responsibility to retain a copy of all work submitted for evaluation, including written materials, electronic files, and work submitted on other media such as audiotapes and video tapes.

PARTNERSHIP PROGRAMS

Partner schools may have additional policies and procedures. Students in the (discontinued) DMin partnership with Ashland Theological Seminary are subject to its policies; MDiv partnership students should consult the policies of Lancaster Theological Seminary.

Student Responsibility

It is the responsibility of the student to comply with the academic policies of the Ecumenical Institute.

ATTENDANCE AND PARTICIPATION

Graduate theological education requires a high degree of involvement in the classroom and initiative outside the classroom. Regular attendance and informed participation are expected and evaluated in all classes. A necessary absence should be cleared in advance with the professor. More than one absence from a course may result in additional work or a lower grade, at the professor's discretion.

More than three absences may result in administrative withdrawal.

GRADE REQUIREMENTS

A student must maintain a GPA of 2.7, in order to graduate from a degree program or to receive a certificate. If a student's cumulative GPA falls below 2.7 he or she will be placed on academic probation.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

A leave of absence may be granted to a student for up to one year for a certificate (including C.A.S.) candidate and two years for a degree candidate. A student who takes a leave of absence must still complete the certificate or degree in the time period specified in the catalog unless he or she requests, and is granted, an extension due to extenuating circumstances. If a student wishes to extend a leave of absence, it is his or her responsibility to request the extension in writing from the Committee on Admissions and Academic Standing. Failure to return to classes at the end of one's leave of absence ordinarily results in a loss of matriculancy, unless the student has been in communication with the Administration about his or her status.

PAYMENT POLICIES

St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute allows students to register for classes by paying the term's registration fee. Full payment of tuition and student services fee, or partial payment with a deferred-payment contract, is due no later than the first day of classes. Deferred-payment contracts, whereby the tuition is payable in installments, without finance charges, are available to new students and continuing students who maintain good credit at St. Mary's. Payments may be made by check, money order, cash, or credit card (VISA, MasterCard, American Express, or Discover).

Each student is fully responsible for his or her own financial obligations. Students who fail to make their full tuition payment, or first installment on a deferred-payment contract, by the first class meeting will have their registrations cancelled.

Students who fail to make a scheduled tuition payment are invoiced and assessed a late-payment fee for each occurrence. Repeated or extended delinquency within a term may result in an administrative withdrawal from the term's class(es). Students who are administratively withdrawn (a) lose all monies paid, (b) are responsible for tuition for the course according to the tuition reduction and refund policy printed below, and (c) receive no credit for the classes in which they were enrolled. Students who fail to meet their financial obligations on time, write checks with insufficient funds, or otherwise establish poor credit at St. Mary's may not be permitted future registration with a deferred-payment contract.

Students with outstanding financial obligations are not permitted to register for classes; receive credit for the courses for which tuition monies are due; or receive a grade report, transcript, certificate, or diploma.

A student's financial obligations are considered fulfilled when a check paid to St. Mary's clears the bank or a credit-card transaction is approved.

TUITION REDUCTION AND REFUND

Students who withdraw from a course are obligated to fulfill their financial obligations for the course. The schedule printed below lists the deadlines by which an official written and signed withdrawal notice must be received by the Registrar in order for the student to be eligible for the corresponding percent of reduction in tuition:

Time of Official Withdrawal	Percentage of Tuition Reduction*
Before the second class session	100%
Up to 8 hours of meeting time	2/3
Up to 12 hours of meeting time	1/3
After 12 hours of meeting time	0%

Any student who fails to withdraw officially or who is administratively withdrawn is not entitled to a reduction or refund.

CHARGES OR REFUNDS FOR CHANGES IN REGISTRATION STATUS

Students who change from audit to credit must pay full credit tuition regardless of the date their change in registration status becomes effective.

Students who change from credit to audit pay audit tuition. This change must be made by the mid-point of the term (the specific date is published in the school calendar). The change is made by submitting to the Registrar a signed copy of the Request for Change in Course Status. A student who fails to submit a signed form will not be switched to audit status. A student who submits a signed form after the published deadline must pay full credit tuition.

FINANCIAL RECORDS POLICY

Financial documents that relate to a student's stay at St. Mary's may be examined only by those parties at St. Mary's who are directly responsible for students' accounts or billing matters.

E.I. SCHOLARSHIPS

St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute has limited scholarship funds that are awarded to matriculated master's degree or certificate candidates and other credit-seeking students on the basis of financial need, academic achievement, sponsorship by a church, or other criteria. More information is available on the EI website.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

OVERVIEW

The following selection of course descriptions, organized by department, is representative, but not comprehensive. New courses are occasionally added according to student need and faculty interest. All courses yield three credits unless otherwise noted.

There are three basic levels of courses: exploratory (500 level), introductory (600 level), and intermediate/advanced (700 level). They are distinguished as follows:

- The 500-level courses are part of the Explorations in Theology program. They do not have prerequisites or corequisites (courses that must be taken prior to, or at the same time as, the course listed, unless special permission of the instructor and Dean is obtained) and do not normally require a research paper. They are usually co-listed with corresponding 700-level courses.
- Most of the 600-level courses have one or more pre- or co-requisites (courses that must be taken prior to, or at the same time as, the course listed, unless special permission of the instructor and Dean is obtained). A few 600-level courses do not have pre- or corequisites and may be taken as part of the Explorations in Theology program.

- The 700-level courses have one or more prerequisites (courses that must be taken prior to the course listed, unless special permission of the instructor and Dean is obtained). The highest 700-level courses (790s) are advanced seminars.

Note: CAS matriculants may take certain 600-level courses at the 700 level (with some additional work required) with the permission of the instructor and the Dean.

Prerequisites and corequisites do not normally apply to auditors but may be applied at the discretion of the Dean or the instructor. Note the following abbreviations: PR = prerequisite; CR = corequisite; PR/CR = either a prerequisite or a corequisite. Corequisites may be taken either at the same time as or before the course listed. Prerequisites and corequisites may be waived only with the permission of the Dean and the instructor.

In addition to the regularly offered courses listed below, other electives, additional language courses, and independent study courses can be arranged (request form available for download here). Contact the St. Mary's Ecumenical institute office for further information. A list of course offerings for the fall, spring, or summer term is published on this Website approximately two months before the term begins.

Most courses are offered on a one-year, two-year, or three-year cycle according to guidelines published in the student handbook or supplements to it.

BIBLICAL STUDIES

The Bible has nourished and directed the Jewish and Christian traditions as believers have heard the revelatory words of God through the history, poetry, prophetic discourses, gospels, and letters it contains. St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute courses in biblical studies are intended to acquaint students with the biblical texts and cultures, the basic skills of biblical interpretation, biblical languages, and the interrelationship between the Bible and other theological disciplines as well as the life of faith.

BS600 ORIENTATION TO BIBLICAL STUDIES

An introduction to academic biblical studies, with attention to the nature and development of biblical literature, tools for research, and methods of interpretation (exegesis). This course is a pre- or co-requisite for most other courses in biblical studies.
PR = none.

BS611 INTRODUCTION TO BIBLICAL HEBREW I

A basic course on the grammar and vocabulary of biblical Hebrew. PR = none.

BS612 INTRODUCTION TO BIBLICAL HEBREW II

A continuation of BS611, with reading in the Hebrew Bible. PR = BS611.

BS613 INTRODUCTION TO BIBLICAL GREEK I

A basic course on the grammar and vocabulary of New Testament Greek. PR = none.

BS614 INTRODUCTION TO BIBLICAL GREEK
II

A continuation of BS613, with reading in the Greek New Testament. PR = BS613.

BS621 THE LITERATURE AND THEOLOGY OF THE HEBREW BIBLE

An introduction to the theological content of the Torah, Prophets, and Writings in their historical and social contexts, with consideration of critical methodology and major themes. PR/CR = BS600.

BS622 THE LITERATURE AND THEOLOGY OF THE NEW TESTAMENT

An exploration of the New Testament in its historical and social settings, focusing on the unique purpose and theology of each writing, with attention to the origins of the New Testament canon. PR/CR = BS600.

BS630 THE PROPHETIC LITERATURE

A survey of the major writings of the prophetic movement in ancient Israel from the eighth century B.C.E. until the rise of apocalypticism. PR/CR = BS600, TH601.

BS669 STUDY TOUR: THE CITIES OF PAUL AND JOHN

A study trip to Turkey and Greece to visit the sites and explore the contexts related to the writings of the Apostle Paul and John the Seer, the author of the Book of Revelation. Cross-listed as H669. PR/CR = BS600, TH601 (or permission of instructor).

BS690-692 READINGS IN BIBLICAL GREEK I-III

Reading of selected passages of the Greek New Testament to develop facility in grammatical analysis and enlarge vocabulary (2 credits). PR = BS614.

BS700 BIBLICAL INTERPRETATION IN THE CHURCH

An examination of the role of Scripture and of various methods of biblical study in the life of the church. PR = BS600, TH601, and at least one previous BS course.

BS711 THE GOSPEL OF JOHN

An exploration of the historical context, literary features, spirituality, and theological significance of the fourth Gospel. PR = BS600, TH601. Also offered as BS511. PR= BS600, TH601.

BS714 THE PSALMS

A study of representative psalms as the songs of ancient Israel, Judaism, and the Christian church. PR = BS600, TH601.

BS715 THE LETTERS & THEOLOGY OF PAUL

An analysis of several of Paul's letters in their historical context and the chief theological and ethical themes in them. PR= BS600, TH601.

BS716 BIBLICAL AND ECUMENICAL PERSPECTIVES ON MARY

An exploration of Mary's role in Scripture and in the life of the church as mother of Jesus and model disciple in light of recent ecumenical scholarship and dialogue. Cross-listed as ES716. PR = TH601 and either BS622 or BS635.

BS733 ROMANS: PAUL'S GOSPEL THEN AND NOW

An historical, theological, and literary exploration of Paul's most significant letter, with attention to its contemporary implications for faith and life. PR = BS600, TH601.

BS760 FIRST CORINTHIANS

An historical, exegetical, and theological analysis of Paul's first canonical letter to the Corinthians. PR = BS600, TH601.

BS763 THE BOOK OF JOB

A careful look at the book of Job and its historical, cultural, literary, and religious contexts, with attention to the history of interpretation. PR = BS600, TH601. Also offered as BS502. (PR = none.)

BS764 THE BOOK OF REVELATION AND ITS INTERPRETERS

An analysis of the last book of the Bible in its first-century context, and a consideration of some of its many interpretations through the centuries. PR = BS600, TH601.

BS794 SEMINAR IN BIBLICAL STUDIES

A seminar on a topic in biblical studies. PR = BS600, TH601, and at least two additional BS courses, or matriculation in the C.A.S. program.

ECUMENICAL & INTERFAITH STUDIES

Courses in this area investigate the history of ecumenism, theological issues inherent in religious pluralism, and ecumenical and interfaith relations. St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute recognizes the diversity of religious perspectives in contemporary society and fosters mutual respect and understanding of both similarities and differences among people of faith.

ES665 JEWISH-CHRISTIAN STUDIES

The annual Richman-Linehan Course in Jewish-Christian Studies is team taught by Jewish and Christian scholars. The course fosters interfaith engagement in Jewish-Christian studies by selecting a specific focus each year, such as interpretations of scripture, history of relations, contemporary dialogue, theologies, ethics, or worship. Typically, the course cross-lists in at least one other discipline.

ES703 INTRODUCTION TO JUDAISM

A survey of Jewish thought, practice, history, and literature from the biblical period to the present, with special attention to the contemporary American context. PR/CR = TH601.

ES711 THE AMERICAN RELIGIOUS EXPERIENCE

A survey of the historical traditions, recent trends, contemporary experiences, and popular spirituality of varied American religious communities from the early 17th century to today. Cross-listed as H711. PR/CR = TH601.

ES716 BIBLICAL AND ECUMENICAL PERSPECTIVES ON MARY

An exploration of Mary's role in Scripture and in the life of the church as mother of Jesus and model disciple in light of recent ecumenical scholarship and dialogue. Cross-listed as BS716. PR = TH601 and either BS622 or BS635.

ES718 CHRISTIAN WORSHIP: HISTORY, PRINCIPLES, AND PRACTICE

A biblical, theological, historical, and contemporary analysis of worship in the classical Christian tradition, emphasizing commonalities, denominational distinctives, and current issues. Cross-listed as PT718. PR/CR = TH601.

HISTORY

The development of the beliefs, organization, and socio-political character of the Christian communities both in the East and the West is explored in the history courses of St. Mary's Ecumenical Institute. The roots of our shared religious past as well as the rich heritage of ethnic and denominational traditions are explored as helpful resources for our contemporary self-understanding.

H520 THE CHURCH AND THE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT

An historical, theological and socio-cultural analysis of some of the major people, places and events of the Civil Rights movement, with particular focus on the implications of the movement for the contemporary church. PR = none.

H601 EARLY AND MEDIEVAL CHURCH

A survey of the major theological and historical developments of the Christian church from the early church to the eve of the Reformation. PR/CR = TH601.

H603 MODERN CHURCH HISTORY

This three-credit course is a pre- or corequisite for most 600- and 700-level courses. PR = none.

TH651 TEXT AND TRADITION: HEALTH, HEALING, AND HUMAN FLOURISHING IN THE BIBLICAL NARRATIVE

Students will understand the central vision of human health and flourishing in Scripture, highlighting the most relevant texts, practices, and topics, and will be able to assess how others (patients, fellow congregants, clients, clinicians) are relating Scripture to their health situations. (3 credits)

TH653 SCIENCE LOOKS AT FAITH: THE “FAITH & HEALTH” MOVEMENT

Students will critically describe and evaluate connections between faith and health that have been proposed historically and in contemporary “faith and health” studies, becoming competent to critically assess claims that faith helps or hinders health and healing. (1 credit)

TH655 I AND THOU – THE IMPERATIVE OF RELATIONSHIPS

Students will explain the importance of relationship in healing, both from individual and communal perspectives, becoming competent to demonstrate healthy relational skills, including respectful interaction, active listening, and caring presence. (1 credit)

TH654 MEDICINE AND MORALITY: THE SHAPE OF CURING AND CARING IN THE CHRISTIAN TRADITION

Students will understand how the Christian moral tradition has traditionally understood the “good of the body” (i.e., health) and subsequently influenced the historical practice of so-called “western” medicine, becoming competent to evaluate the moral conflicts that often arise between the Christian tradition and modern medical practice. (3 credits)

TH652 WHAT PEOPLE BELIEVE MATTERS – WORLD RELIGIONS’ VIEWS ON HEALTH AND ILLNESS

Students will identify the beliefs, prayers, and rituals surrounding illness and dying in major world religions, noting similarities and differences between those of Christianity and of nonChristian traditions, and the spiritual practices that each religion encourages for health and flourishing, becoming competent to recognize the importance of these beliefs and practices, and to respond to them with humility, openness, and hospitality. (2 credits)
