QUESTIONS FOR THE APPLICANT Please prepare your answers to the following questions on separate sheets of paper. Please include your name on all sheets.

- Describe your current ministry and the context within which it is situated. (Remember that the Ecumenical Institute DMin serves the broadest spectrum of ministries, from those situated in congregations to those in so-called secular spaces.)
- Describe the aspiration(s) that leads you to apply to the Ecumenical Institute DMin program. What do you hope to become or accomplish as a result of participating in, and completing, this degree program?
- Consider the relationships, commitments, resources, disciplines, and habits that currently shape your life. Describe how you will integrate Doctor of Ministry study (reading, reflecting, writing, and engaging at an advanced professional level) into your life structure, reflecting honestly on your capacities and limits, including how you will make necessary adjustments to ensure your success in the program.
- DMin study emphasizes the importance of peer learning and of self-directed learning, and requires a major summative ministry project. Describe your prior experience with each of these learning modalities, and your present readiness for them, reflecting honestly on areas of current strength and future growth.
